New Light Shed on Russian Squadron's Stay in Kamranh Bay.

However, as Probable Result of Conference Between French Foreign Office and Japan, Rojestvensky is Reported to Have Left Asylum on Coast of Anam-Japanese Armies Advancing in Manchuria.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ONDON, Friday, April 21 .- [Exclusive Dispatch.] For the moment, at least, the dramatic center of the Russian-Japanese War has shifted from Kamranh Bay, where the Russian fleet lies, either preparing for conflict or purposely acting the part of an irritant-to create a situation that will, in the near future, draw both France and England into the struggle. London and Paris are drawing the attention of the world.

It can be stated on the highest authority that Japan has made firm representations to France regarding the latter's violation of neutrality by permitting the Russian fleet to remain in a French harbor on the very border of the war zone.

Japan has also informed England that she (Japan) is firmly determined to tolerate no such delay as occurred while the Russian fleet was at Madagascar and warning her ally to be ready to fulfill that section of the Anglo-Japanese Treaty of Alliance which calls for action should a third nation interfere.

The situation has given rise to the firm belief in official London if not in Paris, that Russia is deliberately working out a plan to involve France and, therefore, Great Britain, as the easiest way to escape further humiliation at the hands of her conqueror.

KAMRANH BAY ORIGINAL GOAL.

Russia believes that were England and France involved, the situation would be created threatening the peace of the entire world and arousing a world-wide sentiment for settlement, and at a price far less onerous than it is known Japan would now demand.

The Russian fleet has no intention of proceeding farther than Kamranh Bay, and its presence there is as an irritant, as stated auxiliary cruisers, some of them having a speed of twenty-three knots, faster far than any of the great liners plying between the Pacific Coast ports and the Orient, and with these play havoc with Japanese commerce and transports.

The situation is one not to be tolerated. Japan is confident of the outcome of a general battle between the fleets, but the loss of even one-quarter of the Japanese fleet at the present time, and so far from the Japanese base, would be fraught with great danger to prestige gained, to say the least.

ONLY TWO COURSES REMAIN.

Russia has two courses remaining-to stay in the French harbor and force to a head a situation fraught with the greatest danger to Europe, or to sail into waters of Togo's own choosing for a final test of supremacy between the giants of the Occident and of the Orient. Rojestvensky dare not turn back. His course, evi-

Naval experts have no reason for changing their opinion, formed when Rojestvensky set sail—and emphasized when the Russian fleet fired upon the Hull trawlers—that the Czar's vessels, most of them ancient and illy magnetic than the Czar's vessels. most of them ancient and illy-manned, would prove easy victims for Japanese gunnery, long range or close range.

Russia's fleet has not gone to the Far East for the primary purpose of battle, but to seek a way out of humiliation by threatening the peace of the world.

HEINZE GETS TITLE TO MINES.
HELENA (Mont.) April 20.—Today, for the second time, the Supreme Court of Montana passed upon an appeal from the judgment of the District Court of Silver Bow county in the case of Miles Finlen against F. Augustus Heinze, the Montana Ore Purchasing Company and others, better known as the "Minnie Healy case," involving the title to one of the richest copper mines in Butte. Today's decision, which was written by Associate Justice Holloway, affirms the judgment off Judge Clancy, holding, in effect, that there was a verbal contract between Finlen and Heinze, by which Heinze should take over Finlen's bonds and leases in the mines. The effect of the decision is to give Heinze title to the Choate is an addition to the present counsel.

An unusually long meeting of the Executive Committee of the Equitable Society was held in President Alexander's office today. Those present included Alexander, Vice-Presidents Hyde, Tarbell and McIntyre and Messrs. Frick, Bayder, Deming, Krech and Wilson. At the conclusion of the meeting, Vice-President Tarbell stated that nothing of public interest had come before it. He was asked whether the demand of the agents that Vice-President Hyde resign had been discussed. Tarbell announced that there was some casual discussion of this subject. Later, when Tarbell's statement on this subject was conveyed to Hyde, the latter seemed somewhat excited, and immediately went into private conference with Frick, who is at the head of the committee appointed to investigate the society's affairs. Frick, when seen, had nothing to say as to the proceedings of the Executive Committee, nor would be give any hint as to what progress had been made by the committee.

When the agents met today, by an unanimous vote the convention invited Hyde to address them at his convenience. President Alexander made a brief statement that he knew nothing about the report proceeding for a receivership in the Louislana courts, and he doubted that such a movement was under way.

A permanent organization of agents was affected. Edward A Woods of Pittsburgh was elected president. Among the vice-presidents is A. M. Shields of San Francisco. Speaking of the plan to build additional cars, Vice-President Mohler said: "There is little doubt that when this service is established, people on ranch lines can be accomm intermediate points, instead of solely at stations. There is no doubt but that this method of transportation will evolutionize work on branch lines and to some extent on the main lines. It will also permit construction by older lines of branches of less expensive character."

SCHEDULE TO BE REVISED.

published recently. Isthmian traffic will no longer be compelled to pay rates out of all proportion to the service performed. The change in rates will be made known as soon as the matter can be inquired into fully enough to revise the existing schedules in an equitable manner.

This may be considered the first development of governmental control of Panama Railroad property. Its accomplishment will be due to the determination of the President and Secretary Taft to give trans-Isthmian shippers a square deal and to bring trade to this country from South and Central America, instead of driving it away to European ports through the continuation of the excessive rates now in force for transit from Panama to Colon. BELASCO'S SENTIMENTS.

David Declares Al Hayman's Theatrics Art Will Benefit. (BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK, April 20.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) According to David Belasco, Al Hayman and his theatrical trust of five years' standing has been smashed, and is now facing a general smash. Belasco is being haited by independent smash. Belasco is being hailed by independent managers throughout the country as a savior. He said tonight:

"The good effects of ripping up Al.
Hayman and his theatrical trust are already visible. I have received letters from actors and managers throughout the country, telling me that they are being treated with greatest deference by the hitherto domineering Hayman combine.

"Attractions which it was heretofore impossible to play in any but third-rate theaters are now being booked in the best playhouses in many of the small towns, and the iron rule of tyranny of the trust is broken. Not only actors and actresses, but dramatic art in general will be benefited by this riddance of a despotic incubus."

In spite of the statement that the Globe was in a prosperous condition, Hill declines to entertain any proposal to sell its franchise. It is pointed out that as the Northern Securities litigation is at an end; that politics of a nature dangerous to the railroads is quiescent, and that Minnesota proved a difficult obstacle to overcome in the preliminary legal troubles following the organization of the Northern Securities, the elimination of the Globe was in the nature of a direct stab at the industrial side of St. Paul.

NEW YORK, April 20.—Numerous deaths from cerebro-spinal meningitis continue to be reported. There were ten victims in Manhattan alone Wednesday, and the health department officials do not expect to stamp out the disease until warm weather comes to stay. For the present, however, there is to be no quarantine, nor are children or families in which a case exists to be debarred from school attendance. This matter will be further investigated shortly, however, by the authorites.

A number, of late, have been accepting positions in the campaign organizations. The Indianapolis postmaster, for example, is chairman of the Republican State Committee. When the congress was called to order today, the announcement of the vote of Mrs. McLean, which was within twelve votes of an election, was received with a storm of applause.

Of the sixteen candidates for Vice-President-General more than ten—the number to be elected—received a majority of the votes cast. It was decided by the congress that the ten receiving the highest number of votes should be declared elected. Among these elected Vice-Presidents-General were Mrs. Mary Wood-Swift of San Francisco, 315, and Mrs. Franklin E. Brooks of Colorado Springs, Colo. 437. Other officers elected are as follows:

Mrs. Barker of Rhode Island withdrew the name of Mrs. Charles Warren Lippitt as a candidate for Presidents—General, but she did not indicate a desire that Mrs. Lippitt's votes should be cast for any other candidate. A new ballot for President-General was then ordered.

PRANCE SQUARE WITH JAPAN.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.] FRANCE SQUARE WITH JAPAN.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

PARIS, April 20.—Acting on instructions from his government, Dr. Motono, the Japanese Minister to France, called on Foreign Minister Delcasse tations on behalf of Japan concerning the presence of the Russian squad-ron in Kamranh Bay. An official communication issued af-Motono's action had not the character of a formal protest against an alleged violation of neutrality but was to obtain assurances that France would observe strict neutrality. Nowthistaning, it is evident that the intention and effect of Dr. Motono's mission is in the nature of a protest.

Foreign Minister Deltasse responded to the representations of the Japanese Minister by pointing out the precurions that had been taken to preserve neutrality and the special instructions recently sent to the governor-general of Indo-Chima, urging continued care to preserve neutrality. Delcasse's assurances sought to allay the apprehensions of Japan, which he intimated had not been justified by any specific facts.

The exact form of Japan's represions of Japan, which he intimated had not been justified by any specific facts.

The exact form of Japan's representations have not been disclosed; but, it is understood, that, while having the usual courteous form of diplomacy, they set forth the serious apprehensions aroused by the stay of the Russian warships in Kamranh Bay and the earnest desire that French neutrality be placed beyond doubt.

The terms of the French neutrality be placed beyond doubt.

The terms of the French neutrality be placed beyond doubt, although not given out, tend to give ample assurances on all the questions raised. It remains for Tokio, to which the French reply was sent, to say whether the assurances are considered sufficient.

The opinion prevails here that Delcasse's answer is of a nature to avert serious complications. However, the attitude of Socialist deputies promises to bring up the question before the Chamber of Deputies. The Socialist movement, following the general sentiment in Socialist quarters, is against the France-Russian Alliance.

The appearance of the question as political issue in parliament leads to the feeling in some quarters that Rojentvensky's presence in Indo-Chinse waters constitutes a considerable menace to France and may operate to weaken the bonds between Russia and France.

WILKES TAKES THIRD BRIDE.

The Principal in Sensational Episodes Weds Here.

Duel on the Hudson is Memory of the Past.

Former Wife Now is New York Society Leader.

Paul Tupper Wilkes, lawyer, pro-moter and man of the world, whose name has figured conspicuously sev-eral times in the last thirteen years in sensational episodes, was married. In Los Angeles Wednesday afternoon to Ethel Pisher of New York, who is described as an early sweetheart of Wilkes.

Wilkes.

The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. B. Fay Mills at his home and the couple for the present have taken their abade in a city hotel. They may go East soon.

When seen last night by a Times reporter, Wilkes confirmed the report of his marriage and introduced his bride, who is a petite and pretty bionde.

Wilkes is well-known in Los Angeles. He is a son of Rev. Eliza Tupper Wilkes. Unitarian minister, who often has been heard in local pulpits and who is a woman of high standing in religious work. Wilkes also has other estimable relatives in this city.

The marriage license record, while showing the name of Wilkes' bride as Ethel Fisher, hears the notation that she is a divorcée. It is said that Fisher is her maiden name and that she formerly was a Mrs. Fletcher of Indiana,

In New York, Wilkes had a repatation as his own worst enemy. He was known as a man who was "square" with others.

Shortly after his marriage to 'Rifa Rone, it is said he shot a St. Paul drummer for insuiting Mrs. Wilkes in her apartments. The drummer, it is said, fired first, but missed and barely excaped death from the wound he received in return. Wilkes was not prosecuted.

DUEL IN JERSEY.

The duel with McVeigh is said to have saulted from an article written by the sporter, reflecting upon Mrs. Wilkes, to horily after her return from abroad.

A challenge made by McVeigh was accepted by Wilkes and the two, with heir seconds, proceeded across the ludson River to Fort Lee, N. J., where her fired five shots at the other—Mc-eigh being most seriously wounded.

The report of this duel is said to have seen greatly magnified, but those who most Wilkes say he still bears a scar in his arm inflicted by a shot from Me-eigh's revolver.

IRRIGATION CONGRESS.

IRRIGATION CONGRESS.

BACRAMENTO, April 20.—Gov. Pardee. as president of the National Irrigation Congress, to which office he was elected at the last meeting of that body in November at El Paso, has issued an announcement that the next session of the congress will be held in Portland, from August 21 to 24. The session is to follow shortly after the Trans-Mississippi Congress, which takes place from August 16 to 19.

Gov. Pardee states that he expects this meeting to be one of the most interesting, as well as important. The United States reclamation service will be one of the subjects of discussion. There is some hope that President Roosevelt will attend the session for one day, and that President Diaz of Mexico has also been invited.

An effort will be made to have both dignitaries present on the same day. In a short time Gov. Pardee will issue a call to all governors to appoint representatives to the congress.

Mayors of cities, boards of supervisors, city councils and various civic and commercial bodies will be notified also to send delegates to the convention.

NEW YORK, April 20.—A movement has been inaugurated here to erect a life-size statue in marble of the late actress. Mrs. J. P. Gilbert. The sponsors of the society in charge of the scheme, known as the Mrs. Gilbert Memorial Association, include many persons well-known in America. It is proposed to place the statue either in one of the public parks or upon the grounds of the Actors' Home at Stapleton, Staten Island. The marble tribute to the famous actress will show her in the character of "Granny," which she was playing in Chicago at the time of her death. STATUE TO MRS. GILBERT.

WILKES SAYS.

"Yes, we are married," said Wilkes, "and we shall make an effort to live down my record of the past. I have been maligned and have been unfortunate, but I am trying to do better now, and all I wish is to be left alone, "What's past is past, and I am looking only to the future."

News of the third matrimonial venture of Wilkes recalls a flood of recollections, happy and otherwise, among those who formed the gay Broadway set in New York in the sariy nineties, and among others in his country and abroad.

C ARACAS, April 6.—[Correspondence of the company's contract will generally break the monopoly held by the from Chicago April 20.] Affairs in Venezuela have assumed a more tranquil aspect than for many months. France's attitude in the case against the French Cable Company and the french Cable Company and the state of the Mighest court, it was plainly the French Cable Company and the state, however, that the court was the bandling of other boys led to this step by the judges. in Venezuela have assumed a more tranquil aspect than for many months. France's attitude in the case against the French Cable Company and the calm manner in which the United States accepted President Castro's refusal to arbitrate have disarmed fear. It is unlikely that the decision of the tribunal to which the cable company's case has been appealed will be announced for several months. No decision is expected in the New York and Bermudez Asphalt Company case for at least a month, and as Venezuela has appeased Holland by releasing three of the five Dutch sailors imprisoned in this country, there seems no chance for a turn of affairs in the immediate future which will asgravate gresent conditions.

The announcement of President Roosevelt's departure from Washington is regarded here as indicating that the United States has no thought of taking immediate action to settle the question which it is neeking to arbitrate with Venezuela.

Italy is seeking adjustment of the trouble of the Martini Coal Company. The government threw the property into the hands of a receiver in January, and the representations of Italy have been so mild up to this time that into the hards of a receiver in January, and the representations of Italy have been so mild up to this time that there is no reason to expect harsh measures from that source.

France expected the cable company's property in Venezuela to be confiscated, but Venezuela authorities insist there has never been any danger of such action on the part of the Venezuela authorities and say the annul-suela to grant a franchise to a rival company.

In the decision of the president of the highest court, it was plainly stated, however, that the court was not passing on the question of any damage which the government may have sustained from acts of the cable company. Consequently, Frenchmen interested in the company fear that after annulling the contract, the Venezuelan government may also bring action for revolutionary damages and obtain judgment which will practically amount to connecation.

President Castro and his advisers express satisfaction with the present condition of their affairs. Gen. Ibarre, the Minister of Foreign Affairs, says the President recognizes the brinciples of international arbitration and is willing to have questions in dispute arbitrated, if, it is claimed that they were not dealt justly with in the courts. President Castro insists that the honor of his courts must be maintained.

band's Strength Had Been Waning for Three Years, Wife a Sufferer from Pemale Weekness.

"My strength had dwindled so that I couldn't apply myself to my business with any snap, but was tired and listless all the time," said Mr. Goldstein.
"I went to bed completely used up by my day's work, and when I got up in the morning I didn't feel rested a bit. I had awful headaches, too, and my kidneys got out of order and caused me to have severe pains in the back. At one time I became so feeble that I could not stir from the bed for three weeks."

Mr. Goldstein is a young man and had then but recently established a home of his own. His anxieties were increased by the fact that his wife was far from being robust. Speaking of her own state of health during this trying period, Mrs. Goldstein says:

"For two years I had been ill most of the time. Sometimes I was confined to bed for weeks in succession. I had headaches, kidney trouble, pain about the heart and many more uncomfortable symptoms connected with that weakness to which my sex is peculiarly subject."

Trouble had invaded this household and settled in it in just the years that ought to be the very happiest. Physicians could not tell them how to get rid of it. "A trip was prescribed for my health," said Mr. Goldstein. "It promised well at first, but when I returned I found myself just as badly off as before, and I was utterly discouraged. Then an advertisement and the urgency of some friends led me to try a blood and herve remedy which was said to be wonderfully successful. I could hardly believe it at first, but within a month there were unmistakable signs of improvement, which led me to continue the treatment until I became completely well. Through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I have now as good health as I ever had in my life."

This is not all, for Mrs. Goldstein adds: "The wonderful effect that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had in the case of my husband led me to try them, and they helped me even more quickly than they did him, One box made me decidedly better and a few more cured me."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make pure, rich blood, and when there is general reakness and disorder that is what the system needs. The peculiar organism of women calls for a specially large supply of good blood, and obstinate cases of prostration and complicated troubles owe their existence to nothing but scanty or vitiated blood. In such cases it is always best to use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Mr. and Mrs. H. Goldstein live at 38 Grove street, East Boston, Mass. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by druggists everywhere.

Nearly all the Head Camp and Grand Circle officers were present, as well as Maj.-Gen. Will E. Rahson of the Uniform Rank and staff. Previous to the drills the entire marching contingent were grouped in pyramidal form of eight rows and extending the width of the stage, forming a splendid picture and posing for a flash-light photograph. This was followed by another flash-light of the Uniform Rank and Circle officers. The body of the auditorium was occupied by the participants in the drills, and delegates of the Head Camp and Grand Circle.

The judges of the contest were officers for the ensuing term, the galleries were well filled at the morning session, but the election was postponed on account of press of other business. The first business at the afternoon session was the fixing of the salary of the Head Clerk, which occasioned considerable oratorical crossfire, but finally resulted in the amount being fixed at $3000.

HEAD CAMP'S DOINGS.

ORDER'S FINANCES DISCUSSED. At the convening of the Head Camp, Woodmen of the World, yesterday morning, after the completion of the reading of the Head Manager's report, the report of the Finance Committee was read and submitted. The report was read and submitted. The report gives some interesting figures, among which is gleaned the fact that during the past year $1.190,550 was paid for death claims and monuments, with a balance on hand on January 1 of $48,-397.36.

Institute of Architects. One of the leading members thought that the building and grounds should not cost less than $250,000 and $3000 was pledged as a beginning, by the architects.

The meeting of the architects which was held at a downtown cafe, was a special meeting called to consider particularly the proposed new city building ordinance that will become effective May 1 if the Council does not change its mind. Only three really important points were discussed by the architects, and these were the load on the floors of buildings, more discretionary power for the Building Superintendent, and the use of two asbestos curtains in theaters instead of one, as is now used in some theaters. Concerning these curtains in theaters. Concerning these curtains theaters. Concerning these curtains theaters. Concerning these curtains (Lee Burton, F. Parmentier, A. F. G. Brown, B. J. Reeve, Theodore A. Eisen, but after a lively discussion it was recommended that an ordinance be drafted providing for two asbestos curters. As the order makes a practice of erecting a monument over the grave of every deceased member, there was expended during the term $114.600 for that purpose, an average of $3820 per month. It was recommended that inasmuch as this feature creates a serious drain on the benefit fund, that a monument fund be created by the levy of 5 cents per month on the membership.

The committee also recommended the creation of a $500 certificate and accumulative certificates.

SALARIES OF OFFICERS.

The Committee on Salaries submitted its report, the reading of which and action thereon served to draw out a specimen of the latent forensic abilities of a number of the delegates, in telling speches, which elicited the applause of the assemblage. The order of business consumed the remainder of the day.

Telegrams from the Governor of Weshington, United States Senator Pyle, the Mayor of Seattle and Chamber of Commerce of that city, inviting the Head Camp to hold its next session in Seattle, were received. From Sait Lake City came a promise of the donation of land and a building for head-quarters for the order.

The salary of the Head Consul, after considerable debate, was fixed at $5000 per year, with an allowance for traveling expenses.

An Associated Press dispatch from New York says a man who registered at a West-street hotel last night as George Burro of Washington, D. C., was found dead in bed today. He had been asphyxiated by gas. In Burro's clothing was found a passage ticket for the French line steamer La Savoie, which sails for Havre today, and a bank book showing deposits of $180 in the First National Bank of Santa Barbara, Cal.

The meeting continued until a late hour, and not until the last moment was the subject brought up concerning the new science and art building, and then at the instance of A. F. Rosenheim, president of the chapter, who presided. In a brief speech he stated that he would subscribe $1000 toward a fund for the building, and within two minutes John Parkinson and Octavius Morgan also subscribed $1000, providing a fund of $100,000 could be raised. The pair wishes to restrain the old gentleman from using these machines allegedly manufactured under infringement. The original trouble arose with the H. K. Miller Manufacturing Company.

Jimmle Copley, 14 years of age, was run down by a motor-tricycle early yesterday morning on North Main street, and one of his legs broken.

P. E. Normandy was riding the machine, and it is said he was running at a high rate of speed and on the wrong side of the street. In attempting to avoid a collision with a buggy. Normandy swung his tricycle around in a wide circle and caught the boy, who was crossing the street. The boy was taken to his home and some time later Normandy called at the Police Station to see if he was wanted, but there was no complaint on file and he went his way. He gave his address as No. 215 West Fourth street.

Wrongs of Poland.

The Philosophy of Living Club's hast meeting was held at the residence of Mrs. Rosalind G. Peasley, on Magnolia avenue. It was addressed by Dr. Axel E. Gibson, who took for his theme the works of Count Tolstol, and gave an intelligent analysis of that author's writings, at the same time presenting graphic pictures of the man, the reformer, the novelist, and the peasant-prince. Mr. Szymanowski, a Polish gentleman, spoke eloquently of the wrongs suffered by his native land, and expressed the belief that as a result of the Russo-Japanese Warthere will be a political uprising that will result in the establishment of a representative government. He said last if the State of Poland were reconstituted on the original lines, its population would be 26,000,000, and it would embrace within its boundaries some of the most eminent scholars, suthors and scientists of this are embrace within its boundaries of the most eminent scholars, and scientists of this age.

Startling Echo of Sensational Divorce Suit.

Wife Appears in Doorway After Midnight.

Col. H. L. Gordon, whose sensamore sensational cross-complaint and answer filed by his wife, Nellie Gordon, were reported recently in The Times, took a pistol shot at his wife's brothe William Kennedy, at 1 o'clock this morning in the second-floor hallway of the Gordon Block, at the southeast corner of Second street and Broadway.

Col. Gordon claims to have fired in self-defense, believing an attempt on his life was about to be made by Ken-nedy. Immediately after the shooting Col. Gordon went with Officer Parker to Police headquarters and made a statement of the case. This was so satisfactory that he was allowed to

At the hour named Col. Gordon and his grandson, E. L. Hedderly, were in conversation in the former's office, the door of which fronts the stairway leading up from the Broadway side of the building. A tap came at the door, and in response to Col. Gordon's question, "Who's there?" a voice replied:

and in response to Col. Gordon's question, "Who's there?" a voice repiled:
"It's me—Nellie."

Col. Gordon at once opened the door, when his wife crowded into the doorway and seized his arms. Back of her stood her brother, William Kennedy. The Colonel perceived him, and threw his wife to one side.

At that instant, according to the statement made to the police, Kennedy took a step forward and jerked a revolver from his hip pocket.

Before he could use the weapon Col. Gordon turned and got his own gun, a 38-caliber automatic Colt, and in the fraction of a second a shot rang out in the silent building. Instead of taking a long chance, he had fired at Kennedy.

But the shot missed.

Az quick as Mrs. Gordon's brother saw Col. Gordon's reach for the weapon on the desk he dropped his own revolver on the hall floor and leaped down the stairs. Officer Parker picked up the unused weapon where it had been flung.

Col. Gordon stated after the occurrence that he was entirely satisfied the appearance of his wife and her brother at his office was part of a plot to murder him.

toine Yandaw of Chicopee Falls, Mass., Says He's a Brother of Man Once Interested.

IBY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M. NORFOLK (Va.) April 20.—The Capitalist Fires Shot at His latest relative of Thomas Yandaw. was largely interested in a California fortune of over $1,500,000, is Antoine Yandaw, of No. 220 Main street. Chicopee Falls, Mass., who says he is the brother of the deceased Norfolk man. The Chicopee Falls man is 76 years old, and gives a description of the Thomas Yandaw, who was his brother. which compares in many particulars with that of the Thomas Yandaw of Norfolk who died in the Williamsburg Asylum

The Massachusetts man says he and his brother were born in Vermont, and that Thomas early in life went to California, where he lived for some time before coming to Virginia. The brother will seek to recover the Calfornia estate.

ANTOINE WAS A MECHANIC. CHICOPEE (Mass.) April 20.-Anoine Yandaw of Chicopee Falls, who has entered claims for the large estate left by his brother, Thomas Yandaw, was a mechanic at the Agricultural Tool Works of Belcher & Taylor at Chicopee Falls, up to two years ago, when he gave up work on account of advanced age. WOMAN IN THE CASE.

PATERSON (N. J.) April 20.—Mrs nna R. Lupton of this city has been probably an heir to the California fortune bequeathed to Thomas Yandaw of Norfolk, Mrs. Lupton says Yandaw was her cousin.

CHICAGO TO TORQUAY.

Middle West Millionaire and Family ing Place.

LONDON, April 6.—Marshall Cap-thorne, a Chicago millionaire, has rented a large mansion called "The Boltons," at Torquay, the most fashionable of Devonshire watering places, and intends to reside there with his family. Mr. Clipthorne visited Torquay last year, and the climate agreed with him and his family so well that he decided to settle there for a time he decided to settle there for a time. What troubled him most was that he found no school to his liking in the neighborhood, where he could send his children. He has got over the difficulty by engaging the services of a local clergyman who has a reputation for deep learning in mathematics and the classics, and he has brought over from New York a man who will look after his boys in commercial subjects.

New York a man who will look after his boys in commercial subjects.

Mr. Clipthorne says that commercial subjects are much neglected in English schools and colleges, and believing that success in commercial life depends on business training he insists, that his boys shall receive it. He told some of the local teachers that if they taught their pupils more foreign languages and less of the ancient tongues they would be better equipped to get through the battle of life.

Mrs. Clipthorne has brought a staff of American servants over. She appears to be most fastidious with regard to household work and arrangements, and she maintains that English servants do not understand American methods.

Next Jesuit General.

The serious illness of Father Martin, the general of the Jesuits, who it is said will never recover from the can-cerous affection, even if he should temsaid will never recover from the cancerous affection, even if he should temporarily improve, has given serious concern to the assistant generals, of whom there are four, representing Germany, France, Italy and the United States. Father Martin is a Spaniard, and the question of nationality of his successor is an important one. Just now the Jesuits are in expectation of the abolition of the laws excluding them from the German empire. Hence it is thought that the choice of a new general will fall upon a German subject, as being more likely to influence Emperor William. The favor's recently shown by the Emperor named to the Benedictines and other orders encourages the Jesuits to think, so it is said, that similar favors will come to them from the same source. It is now thought probable that the successor of Father Martin will be the procurator-general, Father Maertens, who has tor-general. Father Maertens, who has held this important position for many years. It is important because it is this officer who transacts all financial business of the society. It is against the rules to elect one general until the death of the old one, but it is thought that a suspension of the rules will be had under present unusual conditions, and the entire charge of the affairs of the society be turned over to a new general within a few weeks.—[Boston Transcript. neral Father Maertens who has mother better cared for than the father had left the wife. This was twenty years ago.

Ming John had settled somewhere on the California coast, and was doing well. Ng Shu found him, and they became partners. Ng treated with Ming John to send for Ng's mother, but Ming John asvagely refused. Then, after awhile, Ng got a few hundred dollars out of his father by clever lies, and this he sealed and sent to China. Within the year Mrs. Ming John appeared to the eyes of her faithless husband and loyal son, and Ming John knew where his money had gone. There was trouble then, for Sing Lue was no longer young and beautiful, and twig-gathering in the hard hills of Sun Wui had stooped her form as with age. But there was no help for it, now she was here. So Ming John and his wife and Ng Shu Heng moved to Santa Ana, where in the outskirts they took up a vegetable and berry farm.

to hear, and the lips of the Orient are dumb.

For years Ming John had been beating his wife. Once he broke her arm, another time he discolated her hip with a bestial kick. A favorite trick of the old scallawag's was to knock het down, then starp with his bootcheel on her hands as she lay clutching the floor. Seventy-one years old and bent almost double, she limps from her wounded hip, her arm will never again be straight, and the knuckles of her fingers are puffed and distorted beyond shape.

By dint of years of secret saving and the hoarding of small sums given her by her son, Sing Lue shad secumulated $600. She kept it in a bank, and it was to go to Ng Shu's wife and son, in China, at her death. Old Ming

John is a notorious gambler. He would be worth thousands of dollars today, were it not for 'this vice. He tried to force his wife to give her hoard-ings up, but Ng Shu stood between—a horrible thing to do, according to Chinese tradition—and upheld her. Then when Ng was not about Ming would fall on her and beat her until she was no longer able to cry out. "THE DEATH WORD." "THE DEATH WORD."

"I found her hoeing in the field," said Mrs. Davis yesterday, "so bent with years and blows that she could hardly look up into my face. She cried nearly all of the time I was there, and when I would go she clung to my hand for an hour. Her last words before her final 'Ho hang' of parting were a sobbing pies to find her boy—that is the only word of English she has learned in all these years, 'boy.'

"She is utterly alone on the little farm in the suburbs. An enemy could murder her at will. The strawberry plants and garden vegetables are all drying up, because she cannot set the windmill going or tend the irrigating trenches—she is too decrepit and bent; she can only hoe. She is brokenhearted and all but hopeless. She assured me that were it not for the kindness of a Mrs. Hamaker, whom she refers to as 'Ho pang yan' (her good friend,) she would cut her throat or hang herself; and I do not doubt it. Mrz. Hamaker has literally kept her from starving.

But by her smile, lighting up her battered face at some act or word of human kindness, you read in a flash smething of the great beauty that must have been hers, by Chinese standards, in the long ago. It seems perfectly impossible to her that to get free of her husband (she does not comprehend divorce as we do, but merely as a purchased freedom from further beatings.) could cost 195; yet she knows that she had 4000, and that 'the court gave' the $350 mortgage money to Ming John. From daylight to dark she siaves. From dawn till dusk her doubled-up form may be seen in the hoeing patch.

"What shall become of poor Sing Lue?" I questioned myself, when at last I had given her "Ni ts'o' and turned away."

WEE WORKERS GO OUT TODAY.

For Today the Child Labor Act Becomes Law.

Spirit, Rather Than Letter, the Main Thing.

How Business Men Have Been "Weeding Out."

Local merchants, manufacturers and officers of civic bodies believe that the spirit of the law, and not always its exact letter, will be carried to enforcement. They believe it is designed primarily to protect the unfortunate children of indifferent or inhuman parents, and not to injure energetic little toilers who may be forced by circumstances to help earn their living. The large stores of this city, together with factories and all industries in which children are employed, have announced their intention of observing the law with great care and assisting in every way to secure its enforcement. Ir accomplishing this they will throw out of employment several hundred boys and girls. A large number will be retained through ability to pass requisite examinations, and in still other places special arrangements for schooling and time of work have been made to accommodate industrious youngsters.

OPPOSE BOND ELECTION.

HOWTON'S FRAZZLED FINANCE.

"After a careful investigation, this committee considers it best to recommend to the Council that a bond issue to provide the city with a municipal gas plant be not considered at the present time."

Thus was Spook Howton's latest frenzied finance scheme yesterday afternoon given decent interment by the Council Finance Committee.

Howton wanted to hold an immediate bond election to raise $2,500,000 for building a municipal gas plant. His scheme had the unanimous support of T. D. Fennessy and Willie Hearst's Los Angeles colored supplement.

It seems generally understood that, if the scheme should be successful it to be followed by a $5,000,000 bond issue to construct and operate a municipal brewery and distillery.

The fact that it would require a big increase in the tax rate to pay the half-million dollars' yearly interest and sinking fund on the bonds does not worry the Spook Counciman and his retainers. The gang that is howling for perpetual bond issues is not composed of the people who pay the taxes. Chairman Smith of the Finance Committee took the Spook's latest attempted raid on the city treasury seriously.

scheme as good as a gold mine.

CONTRACTS ENFORCED.

Whatever hardship may have been felt by any of the persons who desire to repudiate their contracts, they have been made to pay up. In a number of cases Justice Pierce has ordered judgment in fayor of the Golden Gate Credit Company, and in several cases—as in the case of Mrs. McKinney—judgment was given on default of the defendant to appear. Mrs. McKinney—judgment to appear in court was for cause—she did not know anything about the case, and felt too poor to seek legal aid, even if she had.

It was in November, 1903, that she took out; a contract for a watch supposed to be worth $25, and sitpulated to pay at the rate of 50 cents permonth—she was too poor to pay thusual $2 down. She was given three brank contracts, with the encouraging assurance that it was a dead cinch that she could get three friends to take up the contracts, and thereby relieve her in her payments to the extent of $15. But not only was given three branch that she could get three friends to take up the contracts, but she fell behind in her 50 cents a month payments. On July 18, 1904, the Golden Gate Credit Company filed suit against her in Justice Pierce's court to recover $43, and on January 20, 1905, judgment, on her default, was given against her for $33. She hadn't known anything about the matter, but the complaint alleged that she had promised to pay $25, of whichonly $2$ had been paid; and that, furthermore, she had agreed that in the event of failing to make payment, she would concede $10 as attorney's fees, and $10 as damages. The court allowed the attorney's fees, but harped the damages.

places, and when they were at Hotel Munn he purchased several articles Mrs. Thurber required, for she had told him her husband had taken all her clothes away from her.

The defendant went on to tell of first leatning of the trouble over the diamends from the newspapers, and of his writing to Chief Hammel the facts in the case from his standpoint, and offering to come down if a warrant should be issued.

The statement of the defendant was all the defense set up, and then began the arguments, which were not protracted. At about 4 o'clock the case was given to the jury and a verdict of guilty was found a few hours later.

But, as already stated, snap judgment was taken against her, with credit given her for only $2, instead of $11. The Golden Gate Credit Company allowed a little while to elapse, and then gave the screws another turn, and on April 12 last got out an execution on Mrs. McKinney's humble home. Still she was in ignorance of what was going on, and last Saturday—three days after an execution had been taken out for a larger amount than was actually due—she went to the office of the company and paid in $8. Th: money was received, but not a word was told her about the execution lagainst her that was to reduce her to a state of almost complete destituton.

All that Mrs. McKinney knew was that a suit had been begun against her; that she knew because W. H. Cline, Jr., served the summons upon her mother-in-law, who lives in the same house with Mrs. McKinney. In making service young Cline did not take the precaution to serve the summons upon Mrs. McKinney herself, although the law is specific in requiring personal service. This is a very important point, upon which the District Attorney will depend to have the judgment vacated.

"CRUEL OPPRESSION."

CRUEL OPPRESSION.

"Of all the cases of cruel hardship and oppression that I have come across, and we have some queer stories in this office," said Deputy District Attorney Fleming, "this is about the worst. The processes of law have been twisted about to oppress this poor old woman, who was doing the best she knew how to meet her obligations. It may be true or not that poor people have no right to aspire to be possessors of gold watches, either of the $7.50 or the $35 varieties, but I'm soing to see to it that this forlorn woman is not going to be sold out of her home, and the law strained to that end, if I can help it. Snap judgment was taken, and none knew anything about the matter, except the people trying to do

Oleson cut a very good figure upon the witness stand in his own defense, the testified with such an air of coolness and certainty that it appeared as if the story he told was, at least, in part true. He told of meeting Mrs. Thurber and her sister, Mrs. Wood, though he did not know the name of either, he said, until some days later.

"I was the general agent in this southern country," he said, "for the Springue Wholesale Company of Chicago, dealing in musical instruments and musical literature. I had to open an office here and wanted a cashier and someone to look after the office. Mrs. Thurber asked why she would not do. She volunteered that when I spoke of having to advertise for a lady that could put up some money or a bond. She said that she had to have a position, for she would have to live here a sufficient length of time before she could begin a suit for divorce. She told me her husband was cruel to her and licked her several times.

"We discussed the matter of her coming into the business on a partnership busis, she suggesting that she could raise what money was needed on her jewelry. Finally we reached an understanding that she should come in wfi. me. I was to pay for her divorce when the time was ripe to begin it, and we were to use the money as we might deem fit. BASKETBALL AT LONG BEACH.

LONG BEACH, April 20.—The Long Beach basketball team, undefeated champions of Southern California, in a fast game today, defeated the Polytechnic High of Los Angeles by a score of 41 to 8. The local girls evolved a new plan of team work that had the visitors guessing at all stages. The Polys were fast on their feet but couldn't get the ball into Long Beach territory, because of the Taylor sisters. Miss LauraBrown played center instead of Miss Sessions who has a sprained ankle and her work was of the gilt edged order.

The teams seem yet unfamiliar with the new rules of interference and the fouls called on both sides kept the umpires and scoreps busy. The first half

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES]

RIVERSIDE, April 20.—(Exclusive Dispatch.] The large crowd that filled the grandstand of the Riverside Driving Park this afternoon witnessed a genuine exhibition of gentlemen's racing. No admission was charged, no betting was allowed and there was a refreshing absence of jockeying and professional track tactics. It was a strictly home taient meet and Riverside's fastest were out.

"What? Is your clock stopped as well?"

Like the Pure Food Bill.

That pure-food bill in the United States Senate has had about as hard a struggle as had the measures of Wilberforce in the British House of Commons for the abolishing of the British slave trade. On February 15, 1805, Wilberforce moved, "without entering into any argument," for a bill to abolish the slave trade after a limited time, and for a committee to consider its propriety. He had been introducing such a bill almost every year for fifteen years, although his twelve resolutions against the traffic were carried in 1789 without a division. But year after year the bill came to wreck, either in the House of Lords or the Commons, suffering defeat in 1796 because several of its supporters had gone to see a new comic opera. It was doomed to disaster agains in 1805, but finally triumphed in 1807. — [Chicago News.

LAUNCHING TERRITORIAL FAIR.

LAUNCHING TERRITORIAL FAR.

In a business way, the topic uppermost in the minds of the people just now is the enterprise of a Territorial fair, which was launched and financed in a single night, probably the best stroke of cooperative exertion ever placed in evidence in these parts. But necessarily it was only the climax to a quiet effort that had been months in evolution and credit for the project is given primarily to J. C. Adams, a well-known citizen.

In the session of the Legislature that closed recently, Mr. Adams, with the assistance of a few friends, secured the passage of a bill, providing for the appointment by the Governor of three commissioners for the direction of a Territorial fair, to be held annually, Further, it appropriated $15,000 for the erection of the necessary exhibition buildings and $7500 for the incidental expenses and payment of premiums, purses, etc., said amount, of course, to be added to the gate receipts, which will be used to the same end. A further appropriation of $10,000 annually for a like purpose hereafter was also provided for.

Engineer of the Reclamation Service Estimates it as Sufficient This Spring to Fill Reservoir the Government is Providing for by Construction of Roosevelt Dam.

ESPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES, PHOENIX (Ariz.) April 18.—According to Engineer G. H. Matthes of the Reclamation Service the quantity of water that has passed down Salt River this spring already has been sufficient to fill the great reservoir that is to be provided in Tonto Basin. Had the dambeen completed, it would nave served as well to prevent all the damage that has been done to bridges and farms along the course of Salt River near Phoenix.

There appears to be real darger of the carving of a new channel for Sait River through the town of Tempe, including the grounds of the Territorial fair, and annual synthatic to fill the great reservoir that is to be provided in Tonto Basin. There appears to be real darger of the carving of a new channel for Sait River through the town of Tempe, including the grounds of the Territorial fair, and annually resulting the grounds of the Territorial fair, and conveniences to horsemen, which it is expected will flock here in great numbers beginning with the coming fall.

Mr. Adams gave a banquet to which he invited every member of the local Board of Trade, placed the project before his guests and in less than an hour 25,000 had been subscribed. It is therefore practically settled that next fall Arisona will hold her first Territorial fair, and it will be undertaken with entitusiasm.

It was found that most of the facts the queer fellow had gleaned he had committed to memory during the intervals of leisure he enjoyed between his foraging or begging expeditions for meals. Though he asserted that he valued knowledge for its own sake he confessed that he frequently contrived to convert it into cash. He delighted in provoking discussions with cock-sure folk who were willing to wager small sums or drinks on things they thought they knew. He had won several pints of beer over the question of the time it took for light to travel from the sun to the earth. Familiarity with rallway speed records had often earned him bread and cheese. And once he had made a convivial swell treat him to a regular blow-out by proving that his notions as to the relative size of London and New York were erroneous. He says that he ought to have inherited wealth and a title. Then loafing would have involved no disgrace and as a "encyclopaedic peer" he would be regarded as a credit to the nobility. "But as I can't be a belted Earl," he adds, "I prefer to be a blooming tramp. That comes about next to it for a downright easy job."

But these sums would be insufficient to meet the needs of a big fair and the projectors conceived the idea that a coöperative enterprise could be launched that would insure its success, and at the same time offer a financial inducement to those who helped.

O PPOSITION TO THE CANAL

Strong opposition to the Panamanal has recently developed from a cree not definitely known, thoughte definitely suspected. Warren B source not definitely known, though quite definitely suspected. Warren B. Wilson, who is spoken of as "one of the most capable lawyers in Illinois," applied some time ago for an injunction intended to stop work on the canal indefinitely—perhaps permanently. Wilson sets up the claim that Secretary Shaw "is misappropriating public funds in paying for the expenses incurred by the Canal Commission." In his suit he seeks to enjoin the Secretary of the Treasury ajoin the Secretary of the Treasur; rom making further disbursements

The interests that would be primarily violence. There can be very little affected, it is clear, would be the transcontinental railroad interests. If the canal be opened, these roads will be obliged to lower their rates to meet increased competition. If they country where they are permitted to prevent or delay the digging of gain a footbold. It is evident that the sponsors for Mr. Wilson are playing for time, without any serious hope or expectation that they can succeed in doing more than to delay somewhat the work of construction as of construction at Panama. The obions which he raised are mostly ical or trivial. His claim that the terms of the Spooner Act have not been strictly adhered to will hardly against the fact that Congress has fully authorized the course that is hoped that the story is not true. Yet pursued at present. This fact, it would not be surprising if it were ild seem, would serve to repeal true; for the doctrine that Gompers all portions of the Spooner Act not technically in harmony with the later authorizations of Congress. Wilson orizations of Congress. Wilson In fact it teaches disrespect, in that claims that only the cession of it prohibits its members from serving by treaty with Colombia would give us perpetual control, and that the treaty made with the republic of Panama can be repealed by the latter the canal strip to the United States in the militia. Such service is one at pleasure. These contentions are evidently of little value, since Colomnot all they should be, perhaps. These conditions could hardly be bia had lost control of the canal strip, expected to be ideal after the long and ruthless rule of Spain. But and Panama was in control at the time Panama can't repeal the treaty, for we have acquired vested rights on the isthmus, of which Panama cannot deprive us.

A further claim set up by Wilson is anything can be. The condition of that "Congress has no authority to construct a canal, especially in a for-eign-country," and that "the build-have improved much faster and much have improved much faster and much ing of the canal would not be regumore substantially if the pestiferous Gompers gang had kept out of the lating commerce, but would be carry-ing on a part of it, and for profit." The investigations being carried on by Mr. Powell, the government expert, regarding the cause of decay in orange are giving rise to spirited discussion among the orchardists. Up to this point, the bulk of the blame is laid at the door of the pickers. The puncture of the orange skin by the clippers is held by Mr. Powell to be the chief cause of decay in transit.

Among the growers it is freely conceded that the orange must be skin whole when it is delivered to the packers if it is to travel without deterioration. But there is considerable diversity of opinion as to the extent of the evil. That it has prevailed, however, more or less on most orchards is admitted, and already special precautions are being taken to put an end to damage that at the moment appears to be very slight, but in the final result has most serious consequences, not merely to any one orange directly affected but to its neighbors in the packed box. In many orchards where the system of paying the pickers by the box has hitherto been in force, this is now being discontinued in favor of hiring pickers by the day. By the former plan there is the risk of due care being sacrificed to haste. But by the daily wage system this risk is reduced, and the grower secures pretty much the same aggregate amount of work if he simply insists upon having an average number of boxes daily from each picker employed. Responsibility of the Packer.

However, the growers are not inclined to shoulder the entire blame for the decay of fruit in transit. The packers, too, are held to be responsible. Despite the fine machinery of most packing-houses and the strict regulations laid down for the employés, it is alleged by some growers that there is still, at times, very rough handling of the fruit. It has to be remembered that a single orange in a box that has been ill-used before packing may be the cause of much trouble. Furthermore, there is divided opinion about the pressure applied to the boxes in packing. Many growers contend that this is the chief cause of decay; most packers will reply that a firmly pressed lox is essential for safe transportation. But there are some men who hold that the system of packing the oranges in bushel baskets, as recently described and illustrated in the columns of The Times, is the best of all. There have been considerable experiments along this line during the present season, and it is said that requests are coming back from the East for ments along this line during the present season, and it is said that requests have open doors show cattle mild, are coming back from the East for more carloads packed on the basket plan. The Bureau of Forestry has been studying the maple sugar industry with a view to securing larger supplies of the real article and preventing spurious fabrications from being put upon the market. The extent of the widely preventing adults and preventing the prevention of th ous fabrications from being put upon the market. The extent of the widely prevailing adulteration is shown by the fact that, while the amount of the raw product has largely decreased during recent years, the whole quantity sold has greatly increased, and the market price at the same time been reduced. Furthermore, the price rises or falls in direct relation to the variations in the price of cane sugar. This latter fact indicates with tolerable certainty that cane sugar is the chief adulterant. In truth, much of the so-called maple syrup on the market is simply a combination of sweets with a little maple molasses added to give the maple flavor. The Government Bureau makes the following point-blank statement: "It is conservatively estimated that seven-eighths of what is sold as maple syrup and sugar is a spurious article. Most of the fabrications are entirely harmless, but they are not the real thing."

Started.

[Herbert J. Welsh, in Success:] Although volumes have been written concerning the growth and the operations of the Standard Oli Company, the exact faots in relation to its origin have not until now been detailed in print. At his Palm Beach cottage a short time before his death, Samuel Andrews, who, with John D. Rockefeller and Henry M. Flagler, started the enterprise, related the story.

In the late sixties, in Cleveland, Mr. Rockefeller had an office in the wholesale district of the city, where he sold produce of various kinds on commission. Mr. Andrews owned a small plant for refining crude petroleum. For the purpose of extending the market for his oil among retailers Mr. Andrews sought out Mr. Rockefeller and offered to pay itim 31 for each barrel of oil he might sell. The latter accepted and found the arrangement so profitable that one day, after he had been doing business some time with the refiner, he remarked to him:

"There must be a good deal of money in oil."

When one of the clergy described a wealthy parishioner as a careless, indifferent sort of man, who cared only for his garden during the day and his builtand-room at night, he said: "Gareless of the careless of the control of the careless of the

To the rude question of a dissipated passenger on board ship. "Why do you wear that thing?" (a cross,) he replied: "For the same reason that you wear a red nose—as a mark of my occupation."

SOLVING WATER TANGLES.

LA CANYADA. April 20—The injunction which was gotten out by the La Cafiada Land and Water Company against. W. C. Cohen and Emilie Cohen to restrain them from further interference with the company's water pipe in the Dunham water cation was served upon Richard Deputy, the keeper of the castle and employee of Cohen's, late Wednesday evening.

The injunction was granted by Judge Trask and the day set for its hearing is May 28.

It appears that the La Cafiada Land and Water Company has no right of way across Cohen's land in the Dunham cafion; but the pipe has been used for years by the water company and by the former owners of what is now the company's property, and there being no other outlet, it seems that the company could easily condern a right of way. The company, though, is not an incorporation and to condern a right of way it will at once incorporate. So if the injunction is not sustained by Judge Trask when it has its hearing it may be that the pipe can legally be disconnected by Cohen and part of La Cafiada will be, or might be, dry again.
